TURKISH DELIGHT

Brooklyn-based designer Feyza Kemahlioglu drew from her Turkish heritage to conceptualize her Pillars of Meerschraum collection, including this fixture dubbed Amber Treasure.

Crafted from meerschraum—a soft white clay material found in Eskisehir, a small city in Turkey—the intricately detailed piece is perforated, allowing tiny beams of light to emanate through it. Gold leaf is applied to the glass of the bulb as it is handblown, producing a mesmerizing one-of-a-kind pattern. wexlergallery.com
